FAQs

Who is a periodontist?

A specialist in dentistry trained full-time for three years beyond dental school in the surgical treatment of periodontal conditions, cosmetic surgery and dental implants.

Why Dr. Kim or Dr. Yoo?

Drs. Kim and Yoo offer the latest in clinical Periodontics & Dental Implants. Both doctors are at the cutting edge of innovative clinical advancements, and are constantly involved in professional teaching and research. They consult to various dental manufacturers and pharmaceutical researchers. Their credentials are...

Jin Y. Kim, DDS, MPH, MS

- Honors graduate of University of Sydney Dental School in Australia
- Residency in general dentistry at Westmead Hospital, Sydney Australia
- Residency in specialty of periodontics and implants at UCLA Medical Center
- Holds masters degrees in pathology, public health, and in oral biology

Roy H. Yoo, DMD

- Harvard School of Dental Medicine graduate
- Residency in specialty of periodontics and implants at USC School of Dentistry
- Faculty, USC School of Dentistry
- Board-qualified in Periodontics & Dental Implants

Are x-rays necessary for the consultation?

Your general or family dentist will provide the original or duplicate radiographs so that the specialist can assess the condition thoroughly. In certain cases, further intraoral, panoramic x-rays, tomograms, and/or CT scan may be needed to complete the evaluation.

Anesthesia Options

We provide various options of anesthesia for surgical procedures. Conscious sedation is the most popular, safe, and comfortable option that can be offered. General anesthesia is also available through services of board-certified anesthesiologists who come to our office by arrangement.

Payment Methods

Drs. Kim and Yoo are providers for many dental insurance plans. We also accept major credit cards and offer low or no interest financing for qualifying patients.
